

MADE IN DORAVILLE

A DOCUMENTARY BY AMANDA CRYER, CAROLINE CAMICK, LISA EDMONDSON & KAREN KETCHUM

Doraville: She's made legendary cars. She's made legendary music. Soon, she'll be known for making legendary films. But it's her diversity she wants to be her legacy.

"Doraville. It ain't much, but it's home." --Atlanta Rhythm Section (ARS)

From the GM Plant built in 1947 to Assembly Atlanta built in 2023, this is a story about our home... Doraville. This isn't just a documentary. It's a cinematic love-letter to the small town that raised us. It's a journey back to our roots, a celebration of the everyday heroes who are the tapestry of small communities. The stars of our story include students who grew up to become teachers at the same school they attended. Minorities who were bussed in and immigrants who found us organically... and stayed to become an integral part of our community. Doraville produced businessmen and women, artists, authors, actors, pastors, policemen, meteorologists, entrepreneurs, musicians, professional athletes, and even an astronaut – a diverse cast representing the heartbeat of every hometown. These are the faces that make up the soul of America.

Rising from the ashes of the original GM plant that launched our city, a new film production compound was built in 2023... and Doraville is once again flexing to accommodate accordingly. Can Doraville forge a symbiotic relationship with Hollywood while staying true to her roots, or will the allure of fame and fortune threaten the fabric of her community?
